

Korey: From Stage IV Metastatic Cancer to Remission

All right. So my name is Korey Hazelwood and I live just a little north of Calgary, in Alberta. I was diagnosed in 2015, is when it all started for me. My life was all normal. I was an airline pilot so I was cruising along. I had a few kids. Three kids; twin six year olds, boy, girl, and an 11 year old son. So for me, when things were normal, life was all great; active outside, lots of hiking. I'm quite an active person. Luckily, through all this process, we were able to get back to all that. So that worked out quite so far.
