

Materials needed for this course bundle

Drawing the Buddha Face! + White Tara

You only need 4 basic materials for both courses, only the size of paper may differ:

1) Paper

Buddha Face

Any size is possible but I advise you to start with size A3 / 12"x18" / tabloid / ledger.

Weight: preferably minimum 160 g/m², or 80lb / 130gsm (I always use 200g/m²)

In US: Blick Art Materials / Amazon.COM or at: Amazon.CA / Amazon.UK / Amazon.FR / Amazon.DE

Of course you can also use (part or half of) a larger paper:

White Tara

For the drawing of this Buddha you need a larger sheet of good drawing paper in cm or inches:

Size: Best size 50x65cm / 50x70cm (If this is not available choose size A2 or size A1)

US paper sizes: Minimum size 18"x24" or larger (such as 20"x30" or 22"x30", more suitable if you want to draw for ex. a large landscape around your Buddha)

Weight: preferably minimum 160 g/m², or 80lb / 130gsm (I always use 200g/m²)

In US: Blick Art Materials / Amazon.COM or at: Amazon.CA / Amazon.UK / Amazon.FR / Amazon.DE

2) Pencil

Regular B&W pencil HB and/or a mechanical pencil (0.5mm)

In US: Blick Art Materials / Amazon.COM or at: Amazon.CA / Amazon.UK / Amazon.FR / Amazon.DE

3) Eraser

Regular eraser

In US: Blick Art Materials / Amazon.COM or at: Amazon.CA / Amazon.UK / Amazon.FR / Amazon.DE

In addition it's nice to have a very fine eraser, my favorite is Tombow Mono Zero (the round one):

In US: Blick Art Materials / Amazon.COM or at: Amazon.CA / Amazon.UK / Amazon.FR / Amazon.DE

4) Ruler

Preferred size of 50cm / 18" or 24"

Note: for thangka it's easiest to work with centimeters. Working with inches is possible but gives you less options proportion wise. The following rulers have both inches and centimeters:

In US: Blick Art Materials / Amazon.COM or at: Amazon.CA / Amazon.UK / Amazon.FR / Amazon.DE

OPTIONAL: Drawing Compass

If you want to buy one, choose one that can make a wide circle, or with an extension part.

In US: Blick Art Materials / Amazon.COM or at: Amazon.CA / Amazon.UK / Amazon.FR / Amazon.DE

Colouring Techniques Course

To colour your Buddha Face you can use whatever coloured pencils you've got, but for the best results a good brand is advised, as those pencils have more pigment which is good for shading.

Coloured Pencils

I have been using the following brands for many years and often use a set of 48 pencils:

Prismacolor Premier

In US: Blick Art Materials / Amazon.COM or at: Amazon.CA / Amazon.UK / Amazon.FR / Amazon.DE

Faber Castell Polychromos

In US: Blick Art Materials / Amazon.COM or at: Amazon.CA / Amazon.UK / Amazon.FR / Amazon.DE

Bruynzeel Design

Amazon.COM / Amazon.CA / Amazon.UK / Amazon.FR / Amazon.DE

If you are in the US, Blick Studio Artists' Colored Pencils also make a good choice

OPTIONAL: Additional materials

In the course I show you what you can do with additional materials such as the ones below.

You don't necessarily need to buy them now, you can also first see if this would be something for you.

Fineliners

There are many different brands that are good. I always use Stabilo Point 88, usually a set of 10:

In US: Blick Art Materials / Amazon.COM or at: Amazon.CA / Amazon.UK / Amazon.FR / Amazon.DE

Gold pen

I always like to finish things off with a golden pen, such as the ones from Uni-ball or Pentel:

Amazon.COM or at: Amazon.CA / Amazon.UK / Amazon.FR / Amazon.DE

Blending tool(s), such as

Paper stumps (set of 3 or more)

In US: Blick Art Materials / Amazon.COM or at: Amazon.CA / Amazon.UK / Amazon.FR / Amazon.DE

Blender pencil

In US: Blick Art Materials / Amazon.COM or at: Amazon.CA / Amazon.UK / Amazon.FR / Amazon.DE

And lastly: if you want to make notes during the courses please have your pen & paper ready.

Happy drawing!
Garmen

PS The above linked products are recommended by me and I receive a small percentage of sales when you make a purchase. Thank you!