

Animation is a powerful way to add some pizzazz to an interactive document, or to illustrate complex concepts. In this course, you'll learn several different ways to add animation to your projects.

You'll learn how to include animation created with InDesign's Animation and Timing panels, how to leverage self-running slideshows for animation and how to use animated gifs, image sequences, and video animation. You'll learn about iframe animation from various web services and how to work with OAM animation and Lottie files.

Ready to get started? Let's dive right in.