

WELCOME!

First, I want to welcome you to the course! I applaud you for taking the time to learn and invest in your food blog. Keyword research is something I am oddly passionate about because of how motivating it can be especially when you start seeing your traffic increase! I hope to pass some of that passion onto you! :)

Disclaimer! You do NOT need to be passionate about it to be successful! 😊

Before you start...

- Please know that due to the immediate access to the course and all of it's materials, I unfortunately do not offer course refunds. If for some reason, you are not happy with the course, please let me know at cookingwithkeywords@gmail.com.
- Make sure to take your time going through each module and take notes as you go (as I always preached to my students)!
- It's important to say that this isn't a "get traffic quick" course. It's a "build sustainable traffic over a period of time" course. If, and only if, you put in the time and effort, will you see results.
- I want to share that starting in 2022, I will be working on a new course built around analyzing, organizing and tracking keywords. I will announce on the course page and in the FB group when it's launched.

*COOKING WITH KEYWORDS IS CONTINUOUSLY BEING UPDATED TO KEEP UP WITH NEW RECOMMENDATIONS OR GUIDELINES.
