My name is Sophie.
- Marina: Y yo soy Marina.
- Sophie: Marina is helping me to learn some Spanish.
- Marina: What do you want to learn today, Sophie?
- Sophie: Well, I think since this is the first lesson, I should learn how to say "hello" and "goodbye" and you can all learn with me.

Marina: Vale. Muy buena idea. Venga, vamos a empezar.

Sophie: So, how would I say "hello" in Spanish?

Marina: "Hello" is hola.

Sophie: Hola.

Marina: Hola.

Sophie: Hola. Ok everyone, let's try saying that together. In every episode of High Five Spanish, we'll learn a word and then you'll have time to repeat it. Let's repeat this word together.

Marina: Hola. You try: hola.
Muy bien. Perfect. You can also say buenos días.

Sophie: Buenos días. What does that mean?

Marina: It's another way of saying "hello". It really means something like "good day". Try again:
buenos días.

Sophie: Buenos días.

Marina: Bue-nos dí-as. Es difícil. Bue-nos dí-as.

Sophie: Buenos días.

Marina: Muy bien. Buenos días.

Sophie: Buenos días.

Marina: Buenos días.

Sophie: Buenos días.

Genial, muy bien.

Sophie: So if I can say "hello", I need to know how to say "goodbye". How would I say "goodbye" in Spanish?

Sophie: So can I say buenos días in the morning?

Marina: Yes, claro, of course. You can also say it at the start of the afternoon.

Sophie: What do we say later on in the afternoon?

Marina: After lunch you say buenas tardes.

Sophie: That's tricky!

Marina: Yes, es un poco difícil. Bue-nas tar-des.

Sophie: Bue-nas tar-des.

Marina: Buenas tardes.

Sophie: Buenas tardes.

Marina: Buenas tardes.

Sophie: Buenas tardes.

Marina: Muy bien. Ok, so let's try saying this all together. Buenas tardes.

Perfecto. So, one thing you need to remember, Sophie, is that we don't have lunch until late in the afternoon so buenas tardes doesn't start until about 4 o'clock.

Sophie: So does it really mean "good evening" too?

Marina: Sí. That's right.

Sophie: Ok. So we've got "hello".

Marina: Hola.

Marina: Buenas tardes.

Sophie: Lots of words already. Maybe we should learn one more. How do you say "good night"?

Marina: "Good night" is buenas noches.

Sophie: Buenos noches.

Marina: Cuidado, Sophie. Buenas noches.

Sophie: Buenas noches.

Marina: Muy bien. Vamos a intentarlo todos juntos. Buenas noches.

Genial, muy bien. Sophie, es la hora de la prueba. It's time for the test.

Sophie: Marina is now going to test us on the words and phrases we've learned today.

Marina: So, number one: buenas noches.

Sophie: Hmm, is that the one for "good night"?

Marina: Yes. Number two, what does buenas tardes mean?

Sophie: Is that "good afternoon" or "good evening"?

Marina: Exactly! And number three, I say English, you say Spanish: "goodbye".

Sophie: Oh! Adiós.

Marina: Sí.

Note here that Sophie makes a mistake (indicated by italics in our transcript). It should be buenas noches, as Marina points out.
