

OBEDIENCE

Submitting to the restraint or command of authority.

Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. “Honor your father and mother,” which is the first commandment with promise: 3 “that it may be well with you and you may live long on the earth.”

Ephesians 6:1-3 NKJV.

ὕπακούω (hūp-ä-kü'-ō)

To hear under (as a subordinate),

i.e. to listen attentively;

by implication, to heed or conform

to a command or authority:

—hearken, be obedient to, obey.

OBEDIENCE

Submitting to the restraint or command of authority.

Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. “Honor your father and mother,” which is the first commandment with promise: “that it may be well with you and you may live long on the earth.”

Ephesians 6:1-3 (NKJV).

ὕπακούω (hüp-ä-kü'-ō)

*To hear under (as a subordinate),
i.e. to listen attentively;
by implication, to heed or conform
to a command or authority:
—hearken, be obedient to, obey.*