

Meditation Journal

During meditation practice today I experienced the following random thoughts or images:

During meditation practice today I experienced the following creative ideas:

During meditation practice today I experienced a dreamlike state. This is what I recall:

During meditation practice today I experienced the following emotions:

During meditation practice today I experienced the following challenges:

During meditation practice tomorrow I will do the following to overcome the challenges I experienced today: