Recommendation: Write your answers in a notebook. Writing things by hand aids comprehension, improves memory and helps you retain more information than typing, which is important for language learning.

1. Write down each Spanish question with the matching English question:

¿Cómo te llamas?

¿Cuántos años tienes?

¿De dónde eres?

¿Dónde vives?

¿En qué trabajas?

Where do you live?

What's your job?

What's your name?

Where are you from?

How old are you?

2. Write out the following sentences, filling the gaps with your own information. You can use Google translate if you need to look up the Spanish word for your age or job.

Me llamo _____

Tengo _____ años

Soy de _____

Vivo en _____

Soy _____

Make sure you use the correct gender for your job.

3. Write down the following sentences about David, filling in the gaps with the words in the box. Each word should only be used once.

años llamo de vivo soy

Me _____ David. Tengo treinta _____. Soy _____ Inglaterra.

_____ en Valencia. _____ escritor.

4. Sort the following sentences into three categories – ones which talk about I/me, ones which talk about you and ones which talk about he/she

Cómo te llamas?	Vivo en Valencia	Cuántos años tienes?	Soy de Inglaterra
Es de los Estados Unidos	Tengo 30 años	Es actor	En qué trabajas?
Tiene 52 años	Dónde vives?	Me llamo David	Vive en Los Angeles
Soy escritor	Se llama Tom Hanks	De dónde eres?

5. Do you remember your encounter with Romina and Pablo during your lesson? Use the key words and phrases in the box to complete the sentences about them (some words should be used more than once):

llama (x2)	veintiséis	se	barrista	es (x2)	veinticinco
pastelera	tiene	años	de	vive	en

Se _____ Romina _____ Pablo
 _____ de Venezuela _____ España
 _____ en Valencia _____ en Valencia
 Tiene _____ años
 Es _____ Es _____

6. At the end of the conversations with your amigos, they said either encantada, encantado or mucho gusto. These are all ways to say “It’s nice to meet you” in Spanish, but what is the difference between encantada and encantado?
7. Listen to the audio of the conversations between Maria and Ana, and Eduardo and Carlos. Write down as many details as you can about each of them.
8. Now use the transcripts of the conversations to check your answers.
