Bister is a water-based non-permanent color pigment spray. It is NOT waterproof and must be sealed or varnished to protect the artwork, especially if using outdoors.

While Bister is water-based, it will stain, so protect work surfaces and clothing when spraying.

Mix colors in another spray bottle for custom colors.

Add a little white vinegar to the ink to brighten the colors.

Spray Bister generously onto your art project while damp. Allow to dry and wipe off textured areas with damp sponge.

For a special effect, apply Bister generously to a thick layer of still-wet Powertex Universal Art Medium and then slowly apply heat from a heat gun. Do not get too close or stay in one area for too long. Apply heat until cracks start to appear.
