

yonder woman, sir, you must know, was the wife of a certain learned man, english by birth, but who had long dwelt in amsterdam, whence, some good time ago, he was minded to cross over and cast in his lot with us of the massachusetts.