Scrapping with Filters, Stamp & Paint

How To Complete the Challenges for This Class

TRANSCRIPT

If you've gotten to this point, you should have already completed one stamp and paint design using my Coca Loco image. Those lessons will need to be completed before moving on to the challenges in this class. This class contains three big challenges meant to get you thinking outside the box and out into the big wide world of photos and scrapbooking kits.

The challenges are in order of complexity, so I recommend starting with challenge one, which is a leaf element. Then moving on to challenge two, which is a background paper, and then finishing up with challenge three, which is a busy busy photo.

Each challenge contains two videos. The first video will show you what to use for the challenge and give you any useful tips for finishing strong. After you've completed the assigned task, you'll want to move onto video two of the challenge which will show you step by step how I completed the challenge and how my new stamp and paint image looks on a completed project.

By the way, good news, if you'd like to make a completed project just like mine, I've included everything you need in the downloads for this class. So without further ado, let's get moving on with challenge one. Good luck, my friend.
