

Getting accepted on Merch

merch.amazon.com/landing

You have one go at this form,
so you've got to get it right!

merch-sellers-contactus@amazon.com

Request invitation form

Please complete this form to request an invitation for Merch By Amazon. We will review your request and notify you when your invitation is available.

We will email the Amazon account you signed in with once we have approved your Merch by Amazon request.

For security purposes, we cannot display the email address you signed in with. To change the email address, sign out, and sign in again with the email you want associated with Merch by Amazon.

Please tell us a little more about your company.

Organization Name

Website (optional)

Industry Type

Select one ▾

Additional Information (optional)

Clear

Send request

Getting accepted on Merch

Under Organization Name I gave my company name as that is the entity I use to pay tax and use on all my Amazon exploits.

Under Website I gave my website robcubbon.com which looks good as I've been blogging for 10 years.

Under Industry Type I chose "Small Business".

Under the Addition Information field in the form I said that I sell Kindles, paperbacks, and video on Amazon and that I sell on Amazon FBA

I also said that I've been a designer for 20 years and that I run a design company. I think this is a good thing to say. And virtually anyone could say this. I doubt if they look into your background and you could have outsourced all of the design

You could also explain that you do t-shirt design on RedBubble, Spreadshirt, or any of the other print on demand t-shirt sites (Sunfrog, Zazzle, Cafepress, Teespring, Teepublic).