

Grammar

Modal verbs: will, shall, would – Exercises

Exercise 1: Find the mistake and correct it.

Example:

She shall be here tomorrow.

... She will be here tomorrow. ...

1. I wouldn't like disturbing him.

.....

2. I'm sure he'll passes his test.

.....

3. We'll probably to return tomorrow.

.....

4. I think he shall accept our offer.

.....

5. They shan't know the answer.

.....

Exercise 2: Use 'will, 'shall, or 'would' to express the following.

If there are several options, choose one of them.

Examples:

Volunteer to answer the door.

... I will / shall answer the door. ...

Make a polite request that I close the window.

... Would you close the window, please? ...

Offer to take me to the station.

... Shall I take you to the station? ...

Suggest going for a drive.

... Shall we go for a drive? ...

1. Promise to come back immediately.

.....

2. Predict an increase in prices.

.....

3. Volunteer to prepare lunch.

.....

4. Make an informal request that I hurry up.

.....

5. Promise not to spend all the money.

.....

6. Make an informal request that I be quiet.

.....

7. Predict a change in the weather.
8. Ask for a suggestion who to invite.
9. Offer to post the package.
10. Express the tenant's contractual duty to compensate the landlord.
.....
11. Ask for a suggestion where to meet.
12. Suggest looking for an alternative.
13. Offer to give me a hand with my bags.
14. Express the buyer's contractual duty to pay on time.
15. Say that until last year, you used to walk everywhere.
16. Make a polite request that I call a taxi.
17. Politely Say that you want some information.
18. Politely say that you don't recommend this hotel.
19. Say that in his twenties, he used to swim every day.
20. Make a polite request that I get you some water.