

Leadership Lessons From a Reformed Control Freak

Acknowledgements

We don't live in a bubble and we never get anywhere meaningful on our own. We are influenced by the people we meet and the things we see, hear and read. I have a great many people to thank. They have all had an impact on my life; all have helped shape me to become the person I am. Some of you I have met personally, others, I have been influenced by what I have heard you say or by what you have written.

The problem with mentioning people by name is that I may forget the odd one or two. (You know who you are) If I have, I hope you will forgive me. Trust me, it was not intentional.

Editing Group:

I'm fortunate to be surrounded by a group of people that I trust and whose opinion I respect. A BIG shout out to Jillian Deevy and Patti Church for your feedback and continued support. Your friendship means a great deal to me. A big thank you goes out to Barbara Munshaw who put together the "Four Step Leadership Development Model©" and to Larry Cavanaugh who created my QR and ISBN scan code. A special thank you goes out to Laurie Logan who stepped up and did an amazing final editing job. A salute to Kimb Manson who helped design the front and back cover, the leadership lessons certificate and the Let's Get FOCUSED© poster. A very special thank you to my best friend and the love of my life Laura Handrahan, whose love, support and encouragement means everything.

Family & Friends:

The Smith Family Circle – My extended family at large. Their love and continued support means the world to me. A special shout out to the ones who started it all – My Dad Reginald Smith, and my Mom – Maggie. They're my Guardian Angels. I know they are both looking down on us – helping to guide our way.

Leadership Lessons From a Reformed Control Freak

My siblings Greg, Jerry, Terry, Randy and my sister Laurie. My son Bradley Smith, my Grand Daughter Chloe and one of my closest friends Linda. Thank you to my roommates Mini and Callie, my sister in-laws and all of my nieces and nephews, far too many to name them all here without getting into trouble for leaving someone out.

Mentors, Heroes and Supporters @ Large:

We all need mentors and heroes to look up to – to help inspire and guide us. Someone who leads by example; someone you'd like to emulate. Some of my mentors and heroes I've met, others I've heard speak or have read their speeches or books. They've all had an impact on my life; they've all had a hand in writing this book in one way or another.

Thank you to the people who I've had the good fortune to work with and learn from. Thank you Andrew Latendre, Jack Enns, Professor Ron Knowles, Rick Nelles, Drew Mudge, Merv Dillabough, Lionel Conacher Jr., Dave Malcolmson, Clyde Knoll, Greg Johnston and Wayne McIntyre.

Although we've never met I've read your books or heard you speak. Thank you Daniel Pink, Larry Winget, Malcolm Gladwell, Dale Carnegie, Marcus Buckingham, Maslow, Yung, Covey and Dr. Daniel Goleman.

A big thank you to the speakers; Tom Peters, John Spence, Presidents Clinton and Obama. It's not enough to think it – and write it – you've got to be able to deliver the material in such a way as to inspire and motivate people to take action. You have all raised the bar and set the standard that all speakers, presenters and facilitators should aspire to.
