

by Jenifer Juris

Secrets of Terrific Type

Lesson 03-04: Glyphs Challenge

Oh boy! Are you ready? It's time for another challenge.

Wait a second, wasn't the Homework Project for this lesson already a challenge? It was. You see, using glyphs is relatively easy once you've got the process down. So, there was no need to do a homework tutorial that was step-by-step.

So, this lesson's challenge is just a continuation of the homework.

In the homework, I asked you to make at least 1 small pack of word art. I even already included a text document with a list of phrases for ideas to help you get started. For this challenge, the only thing you need to do is make at least 2 more packs of word art using the same rules already outlined in the homework for this lesson. And if you've already done that, then feel free to make some more.

And in case you've already made quite a few packs of word art, let's add to the challenge. If you want to increase the challenge for this lesson, spend some time using the word art you made on a digital project of your own. There's no restrictions on how you use them, just make sure you have FUN!

Using glyphs is so enjoyable so make sure to spend as much time on this as you like.