

Course Instructions

A few notes to help you make the most of this course:

This is a self-paced course that allows you to learn at your own pace on your own time. We encourage you to participate in the comments section included in each module. We also encourage you to share what you are learning with others.

It is highly recommended that you keep a personal journal as you complete this course. Besides taking notes on the video lessons, a journal will be critical for you as you complete the Points to Ponder and Action Items exercises. These exercises are designed to help you work on your entrepreneurial mindset “muscles”, and keeping a record of them in your journal will be quite helpful as you continue to develop a stronger entrepreneurial mindset.

Action Items

Action Items are designed to get you immersed in the entrepreneurial process. Because mindsets are most affected by experiences, these activities will help you practice the ideas that you are learning about, while pushing you out of your comfort zone in order to grow and develop a stronger entrepreneurial mindset.

Points to Ponder

Points to Ponder are meant to get you thinking about how the lessons that you are learning around the entrepreneurial mindset apply to your own life. To get the most out of this course, you need to set aside time to write reflectively on these concepts in your personal journal.

Additional Resources

The books, articles, video links and other materials that are listed in the Additional Resources pages are items that we recommend that you explore if you are interested in learning more about a particular topic.

Finally, we hope that you enjoy your experience with this course. All of us at the Entrepreneurial Learning Initiative have enjoyed building it for you!
