- In the Tool Options, set the Size to 125, the Leading to Auto, and the Tracking to 0. The Color Chip should be black. If it's not, click on it and choose black. Click on the Center Align icon. Check Anti-aliasing.
- On the document, click once in the center of the empty space to place your cursor.
- Type a word or small phrase. Since this is my Double Layered Title template, I'll use "Page Title."
- To reposition the word, hold down the Ctrl key (Mac: Cmd key) and click and drag inside the bounding box.
- Click the checkmark to commit the change.

Create the Title Double

- In the Layers panel, hold down the Alt key (Mac: Opt key) and click and drag a duplicate layer directly below the original.
- Double click directly on the name of the duplicate layer, rename it TITLE DOUBLE, and press Enter or Return to commit the change.

- In the Tool Options of the Horizontal Type tool, click on the Color Chip and choose a contrasting color. I'll choose pink.
- Get the Move tool.
- Press the Down Arrow key 5 times and the Right Arrow key 3 times.
- In the Layers panel, set the Opacity of the TITLE DOUBLE layer to 50%.

Is it OK to add a drop shadow to type?

It is never OK to add a drop shadow to a journaling type layer. Shadowed type on journaling is a scrapbook page design No-No.

Save and Use the Template

- Save the document (File > Save As) as a layered PSD file inside the class download folder. Name the document "TTT1-02-Double-Layered-Title.psd".

Add the Title Layers to a Project

- Open the TTT1-02-Layered-Quick-Page.psd file (File > Open) from the class files download folder.

NOTE: If you get a warning dialog box about text layers, place a checkmark next to Don't Show Again and then click Update.

- In the Layers panel of the layered quick page document, click on the topmost background paper layer to activate it.
- Activate the TTT1-02-Double-Layered-Title.psd document that you saved in the last step.
- In the Layers panel, click on the original title layer to activate it.

- Holding down the Shift key, click on the TITLE DOUBLE layer. Now both title layers should be active.
- Get the Move tool.
- In the Tool Options, Auto Select needs to be unchecked.
- On the document, hold down the Shift key and click and drag the layers onto the layered quick page. Both title layers should still be active.
- On the document, click and drag the layers to reposition them.

How To Change the Title

- In the Layers panel, double click on the thumbnail of the original type layer to highlight the title.
- Type a different word or phrase.
- Click the checkmark to commit the change.
