LOOK WHAT PROFESSIONALS ARE SAYING ABOUT DANNY LANE FIGHTING SYSTEMS

The martial arts world has their fair share of incredible Master Instructors, and none more skillful than my good friend, Danny Lane. I spent the morning watching his new video series, "Danny Lane Fighting System Videos." For those who don't know Danny, he fought as a Marine in Viet Nam, he's a former cop and one of the top Chuck Norris martial artist Instructors in the nation - Danny is who the top black belts in the martial arts learn from including me. I promise you'll be blown away with his dynamic instructional series. Danny explains how your weapons are like tools in a tool box - and that there are multiple purposes for each of your weapons - he simply teaches you how to use your tools to be effective for any circumstances.

Great job Danny,

Keith Vital, World Champion Martial Artist, professional actor, producer, author and child activist.

"I have trained with Danny Lane in Combat Tactics for more than 27 years. He is the "Real Deal" and knows what works in a real life and death situation. I have recently reviewed the Danny Lane Fighting System Videos Series and it is a real winner. Everything you and your family will ever need to know in any situation is covered on them. As a professional Bodyguard I know what it takes to keep myself and my high profile clients alive".

Brian Gates Professional Bodyguard to Stars

Steven Tyler, Matthew McConnaughy, Nicole Kidman, Newt Gingrich, Peter Fonda, Gary Senise, Joe Mantegna, Kenua Reeves and many other stars and Corporate VIP'S.

"The Danny Lane Fighting System is built on real-life tactics and has reinforced many of the skills I had gained previously as a Marine. These techniques can be learned by anyone regardless of prior training and are effective even for those with no prior martial arts training. These techniques are similar in many ways to the Marine Corps Martial Arts program that I studied in the Marine Corps and which is, in my opinion, one of the most effective training programs in existence. I highly recommend this video training series for anyone who wants to learn the art of self-defense and to be able to protect themselves and their families in an ever-changing world.

Colonel Scott Hovis, US Army

"The Danny Lane Fighting System is incredible. I highly recommend it. What I love most about the video series is that I can train with them anywhere on my smart phone or laptop. I am a professional speaker and writer and so I travel a great deal for seminars. The Danny Lane Fighting System is a great companion both on an airplane and in a hotel room. Plus, you never know when you might need to protect yourself whether you are traveling around the world or just around the block. Get started today and "Turn every part of your body into a lethal weapon."
