

Hudson Voice Technique for students

It's not just what you say, it's how you say it!

Hudson Voice Technique for students

Before Recordings

In order for Steve to assess you and send your diploma, please record these scripts before you start the course.

You can record on your cellphone or on your computer using Audacity. You need to keep these recordings separate from all other recordings you make throughout the course.

When you've practised for a couple of weeks, we ask you to record these scripts again. Please make sure you name your recordings.

You can download Audacity which is a free recording device for your computer and very easy to use.

Features of Audacity:

- Record live audio
- Record computer playback on Windows or Mac
- Edit WAV, AIFF, FLAC, MP2, MP3 or Ogg Vorbis sound files
- AC3, M4A/M4R (AAC), WMA and other formats supported using optional libraries
- Cut, copy, splice or mix sounds together
- Numerous effects including change the speed or pitch of a recording
- And more! See the complete list of features: <http://audacity.sourceforge.net/about/features>

Click here for User Manuals.

Script I

Since 1961 we've stood out as offering higher education of a different kind. We look at the bigger picture. We question the norm and challenge our own and each others ideas. Our research is leading change around the world; we're developing policy for a sustainable future and fighting global corruption. And it's not like us to boast, but we've had 3 Nobel prize winners!

Script II

Have you ever tasted paradise?

Have you ever tasted a chocolate so delicious
you fall in love?

Excite your palate with the smooth creamy chocolate from Chocolate Heaven.
Chocolate made for chocolate lovers.

Script III

If you want the cruise of a lifetime.....then you need to look at the Onedin Cruise line brochure.

It's full of romantic, exciting cruises around the world. From New England to Old England – from Australia to Alaska.

It's a floating hotel with fabulous entertainment, great food and personal service.

Phone 0800 160 170 for a brochure and take the cruise of a lifetime!

Script IV

We climbed mountains so high it seemed as if we would scrape the moon. But the Polar Express never slowed down. Faster and faster we ran along, rolling over peaks and through valleys like a car on a roller coaster and with a screech of metal we rounded the final corner and found ourselves gliding gently into a moonlit valley.

Script V

The scene, if I may ask you to follow me, was now changed. The leaves were still falling, but in London now, not Oxbridge; and I must ask you to imagine a room, like many thousands, with a window looking across people's hats and vans and motor-cars to other windows, and on the table inside the room a blank sheet of paper on which was written in large letters Women and Fiction, but no more.

Note:

Make sure you have put all these recordings to one side and keep them safe.

Keep all other recordings you make during the course so you can listen back to them.

Hudson Voice Technique for students

The 3 Golden Rules

What you will learn from this element:

 You will learn what three vital things to do at the end of a sentence which will allow your listener to clearly understand and assimilate the information you are providing.

Key points:

The three golden rules: these will separate one sentence from another:

 Go down at the end of a sentence (unless it's a question)

 Pause at the end of a sentence (count "two, three" aloud)

 Energise the beginning of the next sentence

---

Extract from 'A room of one's own' by Virginia Woolf

The scene, if I may ask you to follow me, was now changed. The leaves were still falling, but in London now, not Oxbridge; and I must ask you to imagine a room, like man thousands, with a window looking across people's hats and vans and motor cars to other windows, and on the table inside the room a blank sheet of paper on which was written in large letters Women and Fiction, but no more.

---

'A Room of One's own' by Virginia Woolf

The scene, if I may ask you to follow me, was now changed. The leaves were still falling, but in London now, not Oxbridge; and I must ask you to imagine a room, like many thousands, with a window looking across people's hats and vans and motor-cars to other windows, and on the table inside the room a blank sheet of paper on which was written in large letters Women and Fiction, but no more. The inevitable sequel to lunching and dining at Oxbridge seemed, unfortunately, to be a visit to the British Museum. One must strain off what was personal and accidental in all these impressions and so reach the pure fluid, the essential oil of truth. For that visit to Oxbridge and the luncheon and the dinner had started a swarm of questions. Why did men drink wine and women water? Why was one sex so prosperous and the other so poor? What effect has poverty on fiction? What conditions are necessary for the creation of works of art? A thousand questions at once suggested themselves, but one needed answers, not questions; and an answer was only to be had by consulting the learned and the unprejudiced, who have removed themselves above the strife of tongue and the confusion of body and issued the result of their reasoning and research in books which are to be found in the British Museum. If truth is not to be found on the shelves of the British Museum, where, I asked myself, picking up a notebook and a pencil, is truth?

Time:

Hudson Voice Technique for students

Create Mini-Sentences

What you will learn from this element

- To pause appropriately at punctuation marks within and at the end of a sentence.
- Be able to instantly recognise “mental commas”.

Key points

- In many books and scripts there is insufficient punctuation for reading aloud. The reader needs to put in “mental commas” to break the sentences into smaller blocks of information of one or several words.
- The “mental comma” is the same as a comma except that it is in your head and not printed on the paper. Most people instinctively put in their own mental commas when reading out loud and achieve 65% to 75% success at correctly identifying mental commas.
- These blocks of information can consist of one or several words that may not be grammatically correct but must have a semblance of sense.

Instructions

- Listen to Steve’s explanation of where the mental commas should go in the extract below. The first few lines are completed for you already.
- Now with a pencil, put the mental commas where you think they should go, keeping in mind Steve’s instructions.
- Steve will come back and then go through the extract and give you the correct mental commas. Use a red pencil so that you can see the difference.
- When you’ve done this, you can put the correct mental commas in the extract on the next page. This will be the copy you use to practice with.
- After this element, do not mark any other scripts with mental commas. After you’ve practised this, there is no need, in fact; it is a hindrance.

---

'A Room Of One's Own' By Virginia Woolf

↗The scene,/ if I may ask you to follow me,/ was now changed↘.// ↗The leaves were still falling,/ but in London now,/ not Oxbridge;/ and I must ask you to imagine a room,/ like many thousands,/ with a window looking across people's hats and vans and motor-cars to other windows,/ and on the table inside the room a blank sheet of paper on which was written in large letters Women and Fiction,/ but no more↘.// The inevitable sequel to lunching and dining at Oxbridge seemed, unfortunately, to be a visit to the British Museum. One must strain off what was personal and accidental in all these impressions and so reach the pure fluid, the essential oil of truth. For that visit to Oxbridge and the luncheon and the dinner had started a swarm of questions. Why did men drink wine and women water? Why was one sex so prosperous and the other so poor? What effect has poverty on fiction? What conditions are necessary for the creation of works of art? A thousand questions at once suggested themselves, but one needed answers, not questions; and an answer was only to be had by consulting the learned and the unprejudiced, who have removed themselves above the strife of tongue and the confusion of body and issued the result of their reasoning and research in books which are to be found in the British Museum. If truth is not to be found on the shelves of the British Museum, where, I asked myself, picking up a notebook and a pencil, is truth?

---

'A room of one's own' by Virginia Woolf

(mark this script with the correct mental commas)

The scene, / if I may ask you / to follow me, / was now / changed. // The leaves / were still falling, / but in London now, / not Oxbridge; / and I must ask you / to imagine a room, / like many thousands, / with a window / looking across / people's hats / and vans / and motor-cars / to other windows, / and on the table / inside the room a / blank sheet of paper / on which was written / in large letters / Women and Fiction, / but no more. // The inevitable sequel to lunching and dining at Oxbridge seemed, unfortunately, to be a visit to the British Museum. One must strain off what was personal and accidental in all these impressions and so reach the pure fluid, the essential oil of truth. For that visit to Oxbridge and the luncheon and the dinner had started a swarm of questions. Why did men drink wine and women water? Why was one sex so prosperous and the other so poor? What effect has poverty on fiction? What conditions are necessary for the creation of works of art? A thousand questions at once suggested themselves, but one needed answers, not questions; and an answer was only to be had by consulting the learned and the unprejudiced, who have removed themselves above the strife of tongue and the confusion of body and issued the result of their reasoning and research in books which are to be found in the British Museum. If truth is not to be found on the shelves of the British Museum, where, I asked myself, picking up a notebook and a pencil, is truth?

Hudson Voice Technique for students

Speak Slowly

What you will learn from this element

- 🎧 Stretch words to be able to read more slowly.
- 🎧 Instructions
- 🎧 Read the sentence in the passage below out loud, record it and with a stopwatch time how long it took you to read the sentence and note this time down. Keep this recording because you will need this later for comparison.
- 🎧 Now listen to Steve reading the sentence in the passage below – notice how he stretches each word out to approximately double the time it takes to read the sentence.
- 🎧 Read the sentence in the passage below again – this time read it slowly just as Steve demonstrated. Please record your reading and use a stopwatch to see how long it took you to read the sentence and note this time down. Keep this recording because you will need this later for comparison.

---

Extract from The Polar Express

On Christmas Eve, many years ago, I lay quietly in my bed.

1 st Time:	sec.	7 th Time:	sec
2 nd Time:	sec	8 th Time:	sec
3 rd Time:	sec	9 th Time:	sec
4 th Time:	sec	10 th Time:	sec
5 th Time:	sec	11 th Time:	sec
6 th Time:	sec	12 th Time:	sec

Hudson Voice Technique for students

Find your No. 5 Voice

What you will learn from this element

-  Understand the meaning of a No. 5 Voice and be able to demonstrate a No. 5 Voice.
-  Instructions
-  Listen to Steve reading the sentence in the passage below – notice how he softens his voice.
-  Read the sentence in the passage below out loud and record it. Keep this recording because you will need this later for comparison.
-  Read the sentence in the passage below out loud – this time read it softly just as Steve demonstrated. Please record your reading. Keep this recording because you will need this later for comparison.

---

Extract from The Polar Express

On Christmas Eve, many years ago, I lay quietly in my bed.

---

On Christmas Eve, many years ago, I lay quietly in my bed. I didn't rustle the sheets and I breathed slowly and silently. I was listening for a sound - a sound a friend had told me I'd never hear - the ringing bells of Santa's sleigh. My friend insisted that there is no Santa, but I knew he was wrong.

Late that night I did hear sounds, though not of ringing bells. From outside came the sounds of hissing steam and squeaking metal. I looked through my window and saw a train standing perfectly still in front of my house.

We climbed mountains so high it seemed as if we would scrape the moon. But the Polar Express never slowed down. Faster and faster we ran along, rolling over peaks and through valleys like a car on a roller coaster and with a screech of metal we rounded the final corner and found ourselves gliding gently into a moonlit valley.

Hudson Voice Technique for students

Speak with Energy & Enthusiasm

What you will learn from this element:

-  You will be able to read with energy and enthusiasm.

Instructions:

-  Read the passage on the next page out loud and record it. Keep this recording because you will need this later for comparison.
-  Now listen to Steve reading the same passage – notice how he reads the passage with energy in his voice.
-  Read the passage below again – this time read it with energy just as Steve demonstrated. Please record your reading. Keep this recording because you will need this later for comparison.

---

Extract from The Polar Express

On Christmas Eve, many years ago, I lay quietly in my bed.

---

On Christmas Eve, many years ago, I lay quietly in my bed. I didn't rustle the sheets and I breathed slowly and silently. I was listening for a sound - a sound a friend had told me I'd never hear - the ringing bells of Santa's sleigh. My friend insisted that there is no Santa, but I knew he was wrong.

Late that night I did hear sounds, though not of ringing bells. From outside came the sounds of hissing steam and squeaking metal. I looked through my window and saw a train standing perfectly still in front of my house.

We climbed mountains so high it seemed as if we would scrape the moon. But the Polar Express never slowed down. Faster and faster we ran along, rolling over peaks and through valleys like a car on a roller coaster and with a screech of metal we rounded the final corner and found ourselves gliding gently into a moonlit valley.

Hudson Voice Technique for students

Recognise & Emphasise 'Red Flag' words and situations

What you will learn from this element:

-  You will be able to identify the appropriate words to emphasise
-  You will be able to demonstrate placing the appropriate emphasis on words in a passage by the use of varied pace, volume, tone, pitch and/or pausing
-  You will be able to avoid emphasising the wrong words

Key points:

-  When reading out loud, most people don't emphasise the correct words
-  Red flag words and situations must be recognised as instructions from the author and used correctly.

I live in paradise and outside my house is a public lavatory.

---

Extract from 'The Polar Express'.

On Christmas Eve, many years ago, I lay quietly in my bed. I didn't rustle the sheets and I breathed slowly and silently. I was listening for a sound - a sound a friend had told me I'd never hear - the ringing bells of Santa's sleigh. My friend insisted that there is no Santa, but I knew he was wrong.

Late that night I did hear sounds, though not of ringing bells. From outside came the sounds of hissing steam and squeaking metal. I looked through my window and saw a train standing perfectly still in front of my house.

We climbed mountains so high it seemed as if we would scrape the moon. But the Polar Express never slowed down. Faster and faster we ran along, rolling over peaks and through valleys like a car on a roller coaster and with a screech of metal we rounded the final corner and found ourselves gliding gently into a moonlit valley.

Instructions:

-  Read the passage below out loud and again record it on a tape recorder.
-  As soon as you have done this play this recording back and listen to it.

---

Extract from 'The Polar Express'.

On Christmas Eve, many years ago, I lay quietly in my bed. I didn't rustle the sheets and I breathed slowly and silently. I was listening for a sound - a sound a friend had told me I'd never hear - the ringing bells of Santa's sleigh. My friend insisted that there is no Santa, but I knew he was wrong.

Late that night I did hear sounds, though not of ringing bells. From outside came the sounds of hissing steam and squeaking metal. I looked through my window and saw a train standing perfectly still in front of my house.

We climbed mountains so high it seemed as if we would scrape the moon.
But the Polar Express never slowed down.

Faster and faster we ran along, rolling over peaks and through valleys like a car on a roller coaster and with a screech of metal we rounded the final corner and found ourselves gliding gently into a moonlit valley.

---

Explanation Red Flag Words and Situations

The important words and situations in "The Polar Express" have been underlined.
In this exercise, you are reading to a three year old child.

Obviously, you would read slower and softer to a three year old. When you get to the sentence beginning: "faster and faster.....", the situation changes because you are the person in the roller coaster and you are scared.

The instructions here begin with "faster and faster.." This means you must start at a medium pace and accelerate because that is exactly what the roller coaster is doing.
When you get to "rounded the final corner", you will be descending into a "moonlit valley". This is not an average moonlit valley with smoke coming from chimneys and dogs barking, you have just found paradise.

Far from the frightening ride on the roller coaster, you are now "gliding gently" (like a bird). So this part of the sentence must be stretched out and your voice must become softer as you finish the sentence.

Hudson Voice Technique for students

Put it all together

Time to paint a word picture!

Please read the passages below out loud and record them.

Remember to:

-  Use the 3 Golden Rules
-  Add Mental commas
-  Read slowly
-  Read softly
-  Read with energy and enthusiasm
-  Emphasise “red flag words”

---

‘A Room of One’s own’ by Virginia Woolf

The scene, if I may ask you to follow me, was now changed. The leaves were still falling, but in London now, not Oxbridge; and I must ask you to imagine a room, like many thousands, with a window looking across people’s hats and vans and motor-cars to other windows, and on the table inside the room a blank sheet of paper on which was written in large letters Women and Fiction, but no more. The inevitable sequel to lunching and dining at Oxbridge seemed, unfortunately, to be a visit to the British Museum. One must strain off what was personal and accidental in all these impressions and so reach the pure fluid, the essential oil of truth. For that visit to Oxbridge and the luncheon and the dinner had started a swarm of questions. Why did men drink wine and women water? Why was one sex so prosperous and the other so poor? What effect has poverty on fiction? What conditions are necessary for the creation of works of art? A thousand questions at once suggested themselves, but one needed answers, not questions; and an answer was only to be had by consulting the learned and the unprejudiced, who have removed themselves above the strife of tongue and the confusion of body and issued the result of their reasoning and research in books which are to be found in the British Museum. If truth is not to be found on the shelves of the British Museum, where, I asked myself, picking up a notebook and a pencil, is truth?

---

Extract from 'The Polar Express'.

On Christmas Eve, many years ago, I lay quietly in my bed. I didn't rustle the sheets and I breathed slowly and silently. I was listening for a sound - a sound a friend had told me I'd never hear - the ringing bells of Santa's sleigh. My friend insisted that there is no Santa, but I knew he was wrong.

Late that night I did hear sounds, though not of ringing bells. From outside came the sounds of hissing steam and squeaking metal. I looked through my window and saw a train standing perfectly still in front of my house.

We climbed mountains so high it seemed as if we would scrape the moon. But the Polar Express never slowed down. Faster and faster we ran along, rolling over peaks and through valleys like a car on a roller coaster and with a screech of metal we rounded the final corner and found ourselves gliding gently into a moonlit valley.

---

Covenant of the League of Nations

Article 1:2

Any fully self-governing State, Dominion or Colony not named in the Annex may become a Member of the League if its admission is agreed to by two-thirds of the Assembly, provided that it shall give effective guarantees of its sincere intention to observe its international obligations, and shall accept such regulations as may be prescribed by the League in regard to its military, naval and air forces and armaments.

---

Mock Trial Script

Crown counsel will present witnesses to show that the two accused did unlawfully break and enter Mr. Alfredo's home. The evidence will show that once inside the two accused threatened Mr. Alfredo with a knife and a gun and then pushed him to the ground. The two accused then took his wallet and Ironman watch and ran out the back door of the house. The evidence will show that the two accused ran up the alley and were later found by a police dog hiding in some bushes. The wallet and the watch were found in their possession.

Hudson Voice Technique for students

More scripts for practise

Are you looking for a new car? .....Charlie's car showroom has the biggest selection of guaranteed used cars in London. We've been established for 25 years and have a reputation second to none.

With every car we give 1 years' guarantee.

We offer the highest trade in prices and our service department is 2nd to none. So come in for a chat. Bring your family, take a test drive.

We're at 34 the High Street, London.

Charlie's car Showroom Your carriage is waiting!

If you want the cruise of a lifetime.....then you need to look at the Onedin Cruise line brochure.

It's full of romantic, exciting cruises around the world. From New England to Old England – from Australia to Alaska.

It's a floating hotel with fabulous entertainment, great food and personal service.

Phone 0800 160 170 for a brochure and take the cruise of a lifetime!

Crown counsel will present witnesses to show that the two accused did unlawfully break and enter Mr. Alfredo's home. The evidence will show that once inside the two accused threatened Mr. Alfredo with a knife and a gun and then pushed him to the ground. The two accused then took his wallet and Ironman watch and ran out the back door of the house. The evidence will show that the two accused ran up the alley and were later found by a police dog hiding in some bushes. The wallet and the watch were found in their possession.

If you prefer a definitively British take on the finest things in life... you can take a closer look at all its possibilities here at William & Son Be they large or small. For life's journeys, for always.
William & Son. From the Heart of Mayfair.

We now all know the dramatic and life changing effects that the COVID 19 virus is having on so many.
By adhering to the following critical steps, you will be limiting your exposure to COVID 19 and controlling infection while working on site.
Wash your hands with soap and water frequently for up to 20 seconds. That includes before starting and finishing work, before and after using canteen facilities, and after using toilet facilities.
Hand-washing stations are on site so please make use of these where possible.

Any fully self-governing State, Dominion or Colony not named in the Annex may become a Member of the League if its admission is agreed to by two-thirds of the Assembly, provided that it shall give effective guarantees of its sincere intention to observe its international obligations, and shall accept such regulations as may be prescribed by the League in regard to its military, naval and air forces and armaments.

Filtered through the glacial valleys of the blue forest mountains. Vitta mineral water has absorbed millions of years of essential vitamins that are vital for purifying and maintaining a clear body and mind.
Vita mineral water has a greater concentration of vitamins with a crisp and cleansing taste creating a unique clarity that you can feel all day long.
Vitta... refreshing and replenishing

We retain sole occupancy of the site, and total control of security. There are guards on regular patrol, closed-circuit TV monitoring and archiving, zoned intruder alarms and motion detectors. Clients gain access to their suites with a combination of biometric fingerprint scanners and pre-programmed visit-specific proximity cards with preset expiry dates.

The ability of the Mayflower E3 engine to change both compression ratio and cylinder capacity is completely revolutionary. It becomes an intelligent engine that runs far more efficiently, reducing emissions and fuel consumption dramatically. These benefits work in addition to other enhancements such as direct injection, variable valve timing and turbo or super-charging. Engine downsizing becomes possible without loss of performance, providing even greater environmental, energy and economic benefits.

Hudson Voice Technique for students

Before Recordings

-  Now that you've practised, it's time to record for the last time!
-  When you're done, please send your Before and After Recordings to Steve so he can assess your progress and if all is well.....you will receive your Voicemaster Diploma.

Script I

Since 1961 we've stood out as offering higher education of a different kind. We look at the bigger picture. We question the norm and challenge our own and each others ideas. Our research is leading change around the world; we're developing policy for a sustainable future and fighting global corruption. And it's not like us to boast, but we've had 3 Nobel prize winners!

Script II

Have you ever tasted paradise?

Have you ever tasted a chocolate so delicious

you fall in love?

Excite your palate with the smooth creamy chocolate from Chocolate Heaven.

Chocolate made for chocolate lovers.

Script III

If you want the cruise of a lifetime.....then you need to look at the Onedin Cruise line brochure.

It's full of romantic, exciting cruises around the world. From New England to Old England – from Australia to Alaska.

It's a floating hotel with fabulous entertainment, great food and personal service.
Phone 0800 160 170 for a brochure and take the cruise of a lifetime!

Script IV

We climbed mountains so high it seemed as if we would scrape the moon. But the Polar Express never slowed down. Faster and faster we ran along, rolling over peaks and through valleys like a car on a roller coaster and with a screech of metal we rounded the final corner and found ourselves gliding gently into a moonlit valley.

Script V

The scene, if I may ask you to follow me, was now changed. The leaves were still falling, but in London now, not Oxbridge; and I must ask you to imagine a room, like many thousands, with a window looking across people's hats and vans and motor-cars to other windows, and on the table inside the room a blank sheet of paper on which was written in large letters Women and Fiction, but no more.

Contact Details

Head Office UK

Steve Hudson, CEO
Esther Roberts, Director of Training

49 High Street, Waltham on the Wolds
Melton Mowbray
Leicestershire, LE14 4AH
United Kingdom

Landline: +44 (0)1664 46 41 44
+44 (0)1664 46 41 42

Mobile/Cellphone: +44 (0)7921 210 400

Skype: Voicemaster International

Email: stevehudson@voicemaster.co.uk

Website: [Voicemaster International](http://Voicemaster International)

Twitter

You Tube

Facebook

Linkedin