

My Signature Style

What is your signature style?

Your signature style is how you do everything. How you dress, how you decorate, and how you handle life.

In this month's lessons, we will be focusing on how we dress and wear our colors. But you can apply what you're learning to other areas of your life. You may discover that the words you use to describe your style are the same words you would describe yourself.

You may also discover that the style that you want to define as your signature style may be what you desire for yourself.

For example, I love a casual relaxed look for myself. I am personally not a very relaxed person. However, I also love fun accessories, like colorful sneakers. Fun is one of my core values and is a word people would describe me as.

Your signature style is all about who you truly are and allowing your true nature to shine through. If you're not a super organized person, stop beating yourself up that you keep losing your phone. (Speaking from personal experience). Embrace who you are and stop apologizing for it. And stop trying to force yourself to be someone that you are not.

Your signature style is always evolving. It is not a destination. What you love right now will likely change over time. Enjoy the process, take notes about what you like and allow yourself to change your mind as you work through the exercises.
