

Statement of Understanding of Applicant LLQP Certification Exam & Provincial Life Insurance Agent Exam

The IFSE online LLQP certification exam is designed to measure a student's preparedness to write the provincial exam. The provincial exam was designed by government representatives as a test to ensure that prospective agents have the required knowledge to obtain a life insurance license.

The integrity of both the IFSE online certification exam and the provincial exam must be protected at all times to ensure that neither is compromised. Each candidate must earn the privilege of a licence – on his or her own merit. Primerica has a zero tolerance policy as it relates to compromising the integrity of the exam and the LLQP process. Applicants writing the exams must act in a professional manner, and must not engage in improper or unethical conduct.

Please confirm your commitment to protecting the integrity of these exams by reviewing each item listed below and by completing the Attestation Statement. Be sure to read each item carefully.

I understand that the following must be adhered to when writing the IFSE online LLQP Certification Exam and the LLQP Provincial Exam:

- It is unacceptable to copy, replicate and/or distribute questions or answers from either the certification exam or the provincial exam.
- Reference notes of any kind are not permitted, except for the authorized CISRO LLQP Exam Preparation Manuals. All unauthorized materials must be removed from the exam area prior to writing the exam. Notes taken during the exam to work through questions are to be destroyed after the exam is over.
- Exam questions, in whole or in part, cannot be taken from the exam under any circumstance.
- Providing assistance to, or receiving assistance from, another person or device is prohibited. This includes, but is not limited to: looking at another candidate's answers, using assistive devices or documents such as "cheat notes", using code to communicate information about the exam.
- If at any time I suspect, or have knowledge of, an attempt to compromise the integrity of the LLQP process, including but not limited to the items noted above, or if I become aware that a person is encouraging such conduct, I must immediately report the matter to the Chief Compliance Officer, Primerica.

Attestation:

I have read and understand the information provided in this form, and I confirm that I will comply fully with these requirements. I understand that failure to comply with these strict requirements or with instruction given at the exam centre will result in disciplinary action including termination and may result in further disciplinary action against me by provincial licensing authorities. I understand that by signing this document I am authorizing Primerica to disclose information related to my participation in the LLQP training program to Canadian Insurance regulators. I further understand that I will not be issued my LLQP certification if other Primerica sponsoring requirements are not met, even if I pass the certification exam.
