Don't expect the process of being prepared to homeschool to be comfortable ~ the Lord often works our growth into our every day, messy life.

You are a disciple-maker. You are training Christ-followers. Homeschooling is a ministry & your children are your mission field.

You need to get your scope & sequence, your wisdom & guidance, from the Lord.
Choose a specific date & time to spend seeking the Lord's will.

Homeschooling is not just one educational option among many. It is a call to partner with the Lord as we raise our children.

Trust God singularly as He moves you out of one season & into a new one.
Remember the Joshua 5:12 principle.

We are always safest when we place our trust in the One who bears the name "Faithful and True". So start where you are & trust Him completely.
