

(It's) just as well (that) example sentences

Listen to the accompanying MP3 and read these sentences. This will train your brain to master the pattern (It's) just as well (that)

John, it's just as well you're here. I need someone strong to lift this table. Can you help?

You always forget your dad's birthday. It's just as well I bought a nice gift for him today.

It's raining very heavily. It's just as well, because it hasn't rained here for the last 3 months.

It's just as well that you lost your smartphone because you use it too much. Perhaps now you will do something else.

Jane and Paul split up. Just as well, because they were always fighting. Now they can be happier.

James: Did I miss anything important in today's university lecture?

Jim: No. It's just as well you didn't come. It was boring and we didn't learn anything new.

Bob, what a surprise to see you here. Actually, it's just as well. I need to ask you something.

Harry: Did you watch the new thriller movie at the cinema yesterday? Sorry I couldn't come.

Rob: Yes, but it was really boring. It's just as well you couldn't make it.

I've gained about 5 kg in weight over the last month. But it's just as well. The extra layers will keep me warm during winter.

It's just as well we took the train and didn't drive. The traffic on the roads is really bad.

This movie is so scary! It's just as well that Jane didn't come to watch it. She hates these kinds of movies.

I know you are upset that you failed your driving test, but it's just as well because you need more practice.

Gina: Sorry Pam, I won't be able to come to the party on Saturday.

Pam: Just as well you can't come because I have to cancel it. I'm feeling really ill.

It's just as well that you lost your wallet last night at the bar, because you would only spend the money on more beer.

It's just as well we didn't go to the baseball game on Saturday. It got cancelled at the last minute because of bad weather.

Wife: I lost my credit card.

Husband: Just as well you lost it. That means you can't spend any more money!

It's just as well I didn't get the job. My current company have offered me more money to stay.

Andrew: I can't believe it. England have been knocked out of the World Cup.

Marie: Just as well they lost. That means I don't have to watch football any more.

My computer is broken. Perhaps it's just as well it isn't working. It's very old and slow, so I need to buy a new one anyway.

Jake: I haven't eaten anything all day. I'm so hungry.

Sarah: It's just as well that you're starving. I ordered an extra large pizza for dinner.