

DON'T GO YET :-)

Online courses do two things, they provide information and motivation. I recommend you pair them with a real piano teacher for maximum results. Playing a musical instrument uses the whole body no matter what instrument you choose and a piano teacher is an expert on how to use your body to create some pretty amazing music. You also get to create music with someone... LIVE. How cool is that?

I would love to teach everyone personally. The internet and online courses allow me to come close to that dream. While teaching over 500 adults in person I heard many questions over and over again. All those questions and more are answered in the videos.

Be sure to use the videos provided with these courses as practice buddies, so every minute of your lesson with your teacher is full of what music is all about, the language of emotion and expression.

MORE ONLINE COURSES

Just Launched - Play With Me series - online courses on specific pieces.

The first of the series is On A Clear Day by Lerner and Lane. We start with basic chords and create a lovely tune for beginners and then expand with more advanced chords for experienced players.
