

Finding a book to alter

Filling a book with mixed media art is a way to repurpose a book and bring it back to life.

You're going to want to be selective in the book you choose because you'll be spending a lot of time with it and it has to "feel just right" as you collage onto the pages.

I suggest you choose a book that's not too thick. Children's books are good but many have glossy pages and not all paints adhere well to that surface. Also, look for a book that has a strong binding since you will be adding layers to the pages.

Have fun!
