One way to improve your work ethic is to work like you're _____.

Another way to improve your work ethic is to keep your _____ by remembering what you're working for.

ACT

Set a goal to break a record at work. It might be quality, a day of highest production, every customer service issue resolved within a certain time, etc. Then, do it! It might take a day, a week, or a month. But don't stop until you've achieved it.

SHARE

Share that goal with a coworker or supervisor. Ask them to hold you accountable.
