

Stop Condemning Yourself

You have magnified the enemy's lies in your thoughts. You believe the worst about your situation and others. You believe that you can't move beyond your current situation. Get in your prayer closet at least 30 minutes and tell God everything to which you've allowed the devil to hold you in bondage. Then, leave it there with God and receive your freedom. Walk in the fullness of who God called you to be. List the things below that you will tell God:
