

Why Watercolor sketching?

I love watercolor painting,
it's become an important part of my life

Watercolor sketching is so much fun!

People want to paint and draw but have been afraid or discouraged. Even if you're new, this is for you! Take out your sketchbook anytime, anywhere because painting = freedom.

As sketching forces you to slow down and record what is around you, it enhances the experience of being wherever you are in the world. It can become a regular part of your life as well. I'm not kidding; people love the idea of being able to free their creativity without worrying about ruining their clothes. The beautiful part? You don't need expensive, bulky supplies either, your entire sketching kit can fit into a small purse or bag.
