

Building Strong Writers With Simple Systems

Module 1.2 Transcript

What You'll Discover in This Course

In this course, you're going to learn:

- The why and how to simplify writing instruction in your classroom so it practically runs by itself
- How to teach independent writing so you can have time to conference with students
- How to build a daily writing habit with your students that everyone looks forward to (even if you don't look forward to it now.)
- A simple checklist to include grammar strategies in writing every day and watch your students abilities take off
- The pizza lunch technique for teaching students how to craft a perfect paragraph they'll be proud of (and you will too.)
- The exact system I used for students to self-edit and peer-edit so you can stop wasting time with editing
- Discover how rubrics and writing mini-conferences can save you from time-consuming grading

This course is self-paced, so there's no need to rush through it all. (Unless you want to!)

Each of the lessons are pre-recorded. Watch a lesson and download the materials to try it out in your classroom.

If you have any questions you can reach me at suzanne@teacherwriter.co