Adverbs modify verbs by telling how, where, or when.  Read each sentence below, and underline the verb.  Add at least one adverb to the sentence to tell how, where, or when the verb happened.
Example: The boy ran down the street.
The boy quickly ran down the street.
Robert ate his pancake .
Jonathan played with his new video game.
The old man down the lane mowed his lawn.
Mrs. Corbett sang her new song.
The clown at the circus juggled the balls.
Natalya baked the chocolate cake.
The class got on the bus for the field trip.
When using adverbs to improve sentences, I feel: confident unsure I need help

Using Adverbs When Writing

Using Adverbs When Writing Answer Key

Adverbs modify verbs by telling how, where, or when.

Read each sentence below, and underline the verb.
Add at least one adverb to the sentence to tell how, where, or when the verb happened.
Example:
The boy ran down the street.
The boy quickly ran down the street.
Robert ate his pancake .
Answers will vary.
-
Jonathan played with his new video game.
Answers will vary.
The old man down the lane mowed his lawn.
Answers will vary.
Mrs. Corbett sang her new song.
Answers will vary.
The clown at the circus juggled the balls.
Answers will vary.
Natalya baked the chocolate cake.
Answers will vary.
The class got on the bus for the field trip.
Answers will vary.