These are photos of Jay taken at a mountain bike race in Medora. The course in the badlands is very tricky with many switchbacks, steep hills, and rocks not to mention rattle snakes. He ended up taking 2nd overall.

Tim and I went to Saunders Springs for lunch one last time before he started working his new job. It was a standing lunch date when he was active duty. I would pick him up and we would get lunch, then eat it at the springs. Then I would take him back to work and run my errands. I had to take a photo of the springs on the last day. Tim is now officially retired, but I'm sure our lunch dates will continue some day. Photo from January 6th, page created February 1st, 2023.
