

Identifying More Adverbs _____

Adverbs are a part of speech that modify verbs by telling how, where, or when the verbs happened.

We read the story yesterday.

Yesterday is an adverb that tells when we read.

He ran quickly down the street.

"Quickly" is an adverb that tells how he ran.

Renee ate the pancake outside.

"Outside" is an adverb that tells where Renee ate.

Read each sentence. Underline the adverb. Circle the verb being modified. On the line to the right, tell if the adverb is modifying the verb by telling how, where, or when the verb happened.

John and Hannah eagerly approached the rollercoaster. _____

I ate the entire pizza yesterday! _____

Samantha shopped early to avoid the rush. _____

Please pack up quickly! It is time to go! _____

Kaylie danced gracefully across the stage. _____

You should paint outside since it's such a nice day! _____

You must work diligently in order to finish on time. _____

I tripped clumsily over the sprinkler. _____

I did not stomp in the mud! _____

Please carry this laundry upstairs for me. _____

When identifying adverbs, I feel:

_____ confident

_____ unsure

_____ I need help!
