BSR Sir shared the story of a girl who fell in love with a boy and married the boy, the marriage was an inter caste marriage. She was not supported by her family, the boy's family, she didn't even have the support of the boy and the boy's family was mistreating her. She got very upset and went to meet a person who was her father's friend, she asked him to give her poison so she could die or else give poison to her mother in law. The person gave her a kind of slow poison for her mother in law and also kept a condition that she will have to treat her mother in law for next 6 months as her own mother; even if she mistreats her she will not say a word and treat her with respect. She agreed and started giving that medicine to her mother in law, slowly the relationship between them changed drastically and the girl went to the person to give an antidote to the poison she had been feeding her mother in law as they are like mother and daughter now, the person smiled and said that what he gave her was a health improving medicine and not a poison.
