

Links to Dr Jensen's Muscle Response Testing Research

Oxford DPhil Dissertation: www.bit.ly/OxfordDPhil

The Oxford Studies Webinar: www.bit.ly/MRTResearch

"Investigating the validity of muscle response testing: Blinding the patient using subliminal visual stimuli." Advances in Integrative Medicine 2019.

<https://doi.org/10.1016/j.aimed.2019.04.002>

"The accuracy of Muscle Response Testing: The impact of using emotionally-arousing stimuli." Complementary Medicine Research 2019.

<https://doi.org/10.1159/000497188>

"Emerging from the Mystical: Muscle Response Testing is not an Ideomotor Effect." Energy Psychology Journal 2018.

doi 10.9769/EPJ.2018.10.2.AJ

"Muscle testing for lie detection: Grip strength dynamometry is inadequate." European Journal of Integrative Medicine 2018.

<https://doi.org/10.1016/j.eujim.2017.11.001>

"Estimating the accuracy of kinesiology-style manual muscle testing: Two randomised-order blinded studies." BMC Complementary and Alternative Medicine 2016.

DOI: 10.1186/s12906-016-1416-2.

"Estimating the prevalence of use of kinesiology-style manual muscle testing." Advances in Integrative Medicine 2015.

<http://dx.doi.org/10.1016/j.aimed.2015.08.003>