

From Super Slow to Blazing Fast

---

You will undoubtedly notice that the beginning of this course might be for some of you excruciatingly slow, while toward the end, you could have a hard time to keep up without pausing the videos frequently.

This is by design.

When you start this course, I expect you to be a total beginner and I want to make sure that you feel comfortable with your first unconfident steps.

As you gain more knowledge and confidence, some things can start to feel unpleasantly repetitive and since I don't want to bore you, I have decided to gradually speed up both my narrative style and videos.