Aims

- to encourage enjoyment, critical appreciation and understanding of music
- to develop the child's understanding and appreciation of a wide range of styles and genres, fostering cultural empathy
- to develop the child's capacity to express ideas, feelings and experiences through music as an individual and in collaboration with others
- to enable the child to develop his/her musical potential and to experience being actively engaged in musical creativity
- to nurture the child's self-esteem and self-confidence through participation in musical activities
- to foster higher-order thinking and lifelong learning through the acquisition of musical knowledge, skills, concepts and values
- to enhance the quality of the child's life through aesthetic musical experience

Musical Concepts to be Developed

- A sense of pulse (the beat of a song, where we tap our toes)
- A sense of duration (the length of sound events, notes or duration of a section of a piece of music)
- A sense of tempo (fast or slow)
- A sense of pitch (high or low pitch, contours of a melody. Is the melody going up or down?)
- A sense of dynamics (loud or soft, getting louder or getting softer)
- A sense of structure (different sections of a song, intro / verse / chorus)
- A sense of timbre (the difference between instruments, their unique sound and character)
- A sense of texture (how different instruments and musical elements sound and fit together)
- A sense of style (different genres and types of music from different cultures around the world)

Approaches and Methodologies

Talk and discussion

Talk and discussion will be used throughout the lessons to ascertain the children's previous knowledge about the given topic and the best way to approach the lesson. This method will also be used in all listening and responding lessons and composition lessons, developing critical listening and appraisal.

Collaborative/Co-operative learning

Group work will be used frequently, including group performance, composition lessons and project based activities.

Use of ICT

Video clips, online resources and interactive resources will be used in each lesson to enhance the children's learning experience, and to encourage group performance and composition. All DabbledooMusic resources are optimised for interactive whiteboards. Sing-along videos will also feature in song singing lessons.

Direct teaching

- Direct teaching will be used to teach and model the appropriate vocabulary and performance techniques as well as anything else that may arise during the course of the lessons.
- I will directly teach the children the songs to be learned this term using my own voice and sing-along resources at DabbledooMusic.com.
- Meaning of pitch, dynamics and tempo in relation to the musical concepts to be developed.

Call-and-response

The "Jazz Cat" resource will be used to teach pitch through call and response with 3 and 5 note scales. Call and response song will also be used frequently.

Movement: clapping, conducting, marching, dancing

The children will be taught these skills in order to illustrate the steady beat in the songs learned, and listened to.

Imitating environmental sounds with vocals and instruments.

- Creating soundscapes using different themes throughout the year.
- Using graphic notation to represent environmental sounds as part of composition lessons.
- Exploring the unique sounds of different instruments and how they can be used in a variety of ways.

Responding to music in a variety of ways

- Through movement, art, dance and orally.
- Singing games and action songs.
- Using actions to accompany known songs to aid memory of the song.

Differentiation

Level

I will vary the level and complexity of the content to reflect the diversity of the children's previous achievement. I will also recognise the different levels of engagement and interaction within each lesson or activity. At every stage of group performance or composition children will be encouraged to contribute at a level suitable to them.

Sequence

The child will be introduced to different elements of the learning content in accordance with their stage of readiness. All children will be introduced to new topics through the appropriate level of DabbledooMusic resources.

Teaching style

A variety of methodologies will be used, as outlined in methodologies section, to allow all children to engage with the lesson.

Task

A variety of tasks are set relating to each learning activity. Different strands will be explored in each lesson combining group and individual tasks.

Pace

I will vary the rate at which teaching takes place and the rate at which children are required to work and produce outcomes. Children will proceed at their own pace with each activity particularly in the worksheets and composition elements.

Choice

Children can choose activities, within each lesson, that they find interesting and that match their ability. The children will be placed in groups based on topics they choose, instruments chosen, choice of percussion, choice of response. This will be possible through the online Resource section of DabbledooMusic.

Support

I will vary the nature of the support in accordance with the children's individual needs. (e.g. peer modelling, one to one teacher support).

Resource

The children are provided with online resources and worksheets specific to their own level of learning needs. The DabbledooMusic resources are designed to allow different levels to work together as an ensemble.

Response

The children have opportunities to provide different outcomes while working on the same task. Body percussion, use of percussion instruments, through dance, worksheets and written tasks.

Assessment

Conferencing

The children have frequent opportunities to talk about their work in either one-to-one, small groups or whole-class settings. The colour coded groups used in DabbledooMusic will assist this activity. These are some of the questions I will use to guide this interaction:

What did you find easy? What did you find difficult? What do you think you need more help with? What area do you need more practice in?

Questioning

I plan on using a variety of questioning levels to ascertain the children's previous knowledge and practice, as well as what they have learned in the lesson.

Teacher observation

As the children work during the Music classes, I will circulate the area taking brief notes. I plan to choose key musical concepts per lesson to observe and assess the children on, depending on the lesson content, for example, can demonstrate the steady beat, follow a pictorial symbol

Teacher designed tasks and tests

I will frequently set tasks in the music class based on worksheet resources. These will allow for review of previous skills taught, as well as assessing what needs to be taught before the lesson continues. They will also ascertain what the children have learned in this lesson; if they understood the concept, if they mastered the concept etc.

Pupil Profiles and Portfolio

Information observed, completed and collected about the child's learning in music will be compiled in their personal profile in the teacher's assessment folder. This will be based on the worksheet content with DabbledooMusic.

Linkage and Integration

Linkage within Subject

Linkage between the three strands of Listening and Responding, Composing and Performing will be developed in each lesson. Listening and responding will include clapping along to the pulse with body percussion or instruments. Composing will be followed by performance and listening and responding to the performance.

Linkage and Integration across the Curriculum

Linkage and Integration will depend on the area of resources being used. Lessons will also link with seasonal themes like Spring, Winter, Seachtain na nGaeilge, St Patrick's Day and Earth Day.

Front Door. - numbers, colours, shapes, language

The Clock - instrument construction / physics, time

Igor - animals, the sea, numbers and maths

Jazz Cat. - animals, history of America

Song Singing - history, geography, cultural empathy, social history
