

Comprehension Task Cards

Who doesn't love task cards!? I am so excited to be offering these super flexible cards to help students practice and master each comprehension skill.

WAYS TO USE THE CARDS:

1. In small groups when focusing on a specific skill.
2. To reinforce skills during literacy centers.
3. In partner work.
4. As a game. Tape them around the room for kids to move around while practicing reading. Students will 'work the room.'
5. For tutors to use in small groups.
6. As a review for standardized tests.
7. For a quick 5 minute time filler.
8. Perfect to leave for a substitute teacher.
9. Connect them to any board game. If they answer the task card correctly, they move a space in the game.
10. Independent practice.
11. Hide them in the room as a scavenger hunt.

THANK YOU TO THESE AMAZING FONT DESIGNERS AND ILLUSTRATORS:

Varied Responses for Differentiation

The task cards are available in 3 formats so that each student can practice the skill at his/her ability level.

Level 1: basic- green background

Level 2: average- purple background

Level 3: advanced- blue background

HOW TO SET UP DIFFERENTIATION:

1. Simply print the task cards and place them in stations.
2. Instruct certain students to practice with the different colored cards.
3. Students can practice the skill 3 times with the different levels!

Pedro loved chewing gum. He always had a piece in his mouth. His favorite flavor was grape.

Pedro's dad had to remind him to spit out his gum every night before bed.

"Pedro, spit out that gum before you fall asleep. If you do not, you will have a mess in the morning," dad would say.

One night, Pedro forgot to spit out his gum. He woke up the next morning with gum in his hair. His dad could not get it out so he had to cut the gum out of Pedro's hair.
