This Reflective Journal and Notes workbook has been put together for you to use whilst working through the Maximising Your Coaching and Leadership Impact Programme.

Use it in a way that really helps you. You are encouraged to go through the Reflective Practice Lesson (in the Welcome section) before starting to use this journal as it may help you think about how to use this resource so it is meaningful and impactful for you.

As a reminder here are 2 models you may wish to refer to...

Levels of reflection

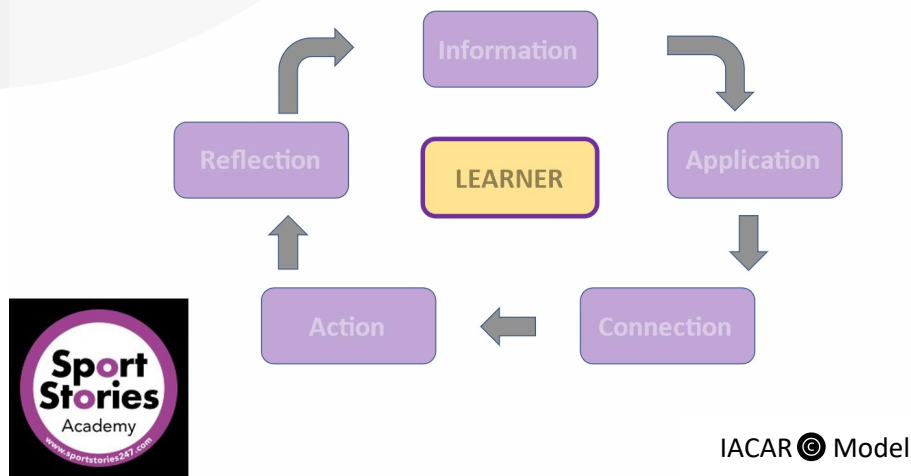

Rolfe, G., Freshwater, D., Jasper, M. (2001) Critical reflection in nursing and the helping professions: a user's guide. Basingstoke: Palgrave Macmillan.

This workbook is structured to support you work your way through the content of the Programme as well as provide you with flexibility to capture your learning and development along the way.

This is called a 'Programme of Learning' and not a course or workshop as it encourages you to access and engage with your learning at every opportunity available – each and every day! Traditionally learners have limited their learning opportunity of courses and workshops to what they do whilst on the course and workshop. This is missing out and many opportunities to practice, take risks, apply and learn. So, please use this workbook in a way that works for you and as regularly as possible.

Don't forget the IACAR model when thinking about your reflections, note taking and how this will help you to Maximise your Coaching and Leadership Impact

The Sport Stories Development Model is as follows

Notes

Understanding Yourself:

Doubt kills
more dreams
than failure ever will.

“Everyone thinks of changing the world, but no
one thinks of changing himself”

Leo Tolstoy

“A good head and a good heart are always a formidable combination”

Nelson Mandela

Leadership:

"Education isn't something you can finish"

- Isaac Asimov

“I start with the premise that the function of leadership is to produce more leaders , not more followers”

Ralph Nader

Coaching:

It's not your job to fix me.
It's your job to hold my hand,
while I fix myself.

Teams:

“A man who views the world at 50 the same he did at 20 has wasted 30
years of his life”

Muhammad Ali

Environment and Context

Experience is the hardest kind of teacher. It gives you the test
first and the lesson afterward.

- Oscar Wilde

“A leader leads by example not
by force”
Sun Tzu

We need to stop
just pulling people
out of the river.

We need to go
upstream and find out why they're falling in.

Reflections

It's on the strength of observation and reflection that one finds a way. So we must dig and delve unceasingly.

– Claude Monet

AZ QUOTES

Consider the following:

Why is reflection important to you?

How will you best reflect on your practice and learning?

How and when will you use this journal?

REFLECTIONS ON SPECIFIC LEARNING EVENTS OR TOPICS

Event/Topic:

What was the session about?:

What aspects really made sense to me & WHY?:

What aspects really 'landed' with me or inspired me to think or work differently and WHY?:

What didn't make sense or I didn't understand?:

What aspects didn't I agree with and WHY?:

What aspects I didn't enjoy and WHY?:

So what additional learning/research/reading do I need/want to do around this topic? What do I need to put on my Development Action Plan?:

So what will I do differently as a result of this session?

So what have I learned about myself as a result of these reflections?
