

Never Give Up

Sometimes life is against you
You see it turning.....
From dark to darker
Wishing it's just a nightmare
And soon you'll wake up.....
Wishing it's just the night
And soon there will be light.....

But you realize you were wrong
It's all very true
It's neither a nightmare nor the night
It's just things are no longer right.....

In a corner you sit.....
Crying blood instead of tears
Waiting sadly alone
In that little seat of yours
Thinking that that would change the world.....

Unfortunately that's not true
The world just won't change for you
The world isn't yours....And isn't free for you

If you want it.....Go for it
Stand up and think quick
Try to change it.....to suit you
Try to fix it.....and make it yours

If you fail.....Try once more
Never give up.....Never lose hope
And remember it's your goal.....
Things don't change from the first shot
And light was invented
