

glossary, antonyms, synonyms

Study online at quizlet.com/\_qop73

1. able	unable: (adj.) not capable of doing something antonyms: able, capable	18. belief	disbelief: (n.) doubt about the truth of something; the process of not believing something antonyms: belief, faith
2. able	disable: (v.) to make unable to perform a certain action; to injure permanently antonyms: to make able or capable	19. believable	unbelievable: (adj.) incredible; hard to believe antonyms: believable, credible
3. acceptable	unacceptable: (adj.) not satisfactory; inadequate; not worthy of praise antonyms: acceptable, okay	20. build	rebuild: (v.) to make or build again; to construct again synonyms: reconstruct
4. accessible	inaccessible: (adj.) not easily approached, entered, or obtained antonyms: accessible, available	21. call	recall: (v.) to remember; to bring back from memory synonym: remember again
5. accurate	inaccurate: (adj.) not correct or exact; mistaken, faulty antonyms: accurate, precise	22. capable	incapable: (adj.) not having the necessary ability, qualification, or strength to perform some specified act or function antonyms: capable, able
6. active	inactive: (adj.) not moving; not involved; idle antonyms: active, alive	23. caring	uncaring: (adj.) showing no emotion; indifferent antonyms: caring, ki
7. advantage	disadvantage: (n.) an unfavorable situation that is not good; something that is bad or not helpful antonyms: advantage, benefit	24. certain	uncertain: (adj.) not sure antonym: unsure
8. agree	disagree: (v.) to not agree; to quarrel or fight; to differ in opinion antonyms: agree, concur	25. changing	unchanging: (adj.) steadfast; constant; staying the same antonyms: changing, unsteady
9. appear	reappear: (v.) to appear again synonyms: to appear or show again	26. charge	recharge: (v.) to put a new charge into; to revive or restore energy to synonyms: to empower, give new life to
10. approve	disapprove: (v.) to consider bad or wrong antonyms: approve, endorse	27. clear	unclear: (adj.) hard to see or understand antonyms: clear, obvious
11. arm	disarm: (v.) to take weapons away from people; to charm; to relieve of hostility or suspicion antonyms: arm, supply	28. coherent	incoherent: (adj.) not able to be understood; not making sense antonyms: coherent, clear
12. arrange	rearrange: (v.) to put into a new order or arrangement synonyms: to arrange again, put in a different order	29. comfort	discomfort: (n.) the state of feeling uncomfortable; pain antonyms: comfort, consolation
13. articulate	inarticulate: (adj.) not able to be understood; unable to speak with clarity antonyms: articulate, eloquent	30. common	uncommon: (adj.) strange; not normal or usual antonyms: common, typical
14. assemble	reassemble: (v.) to assemble once again, after taking something apart; to put together again synonyms: to gather again	31. compatible	incompatible: (adj.) opposed in nature, not able to live or work together; not harmonious antonyms: compatible, harmonious
15. assemble	disassemble: (v.) to take apart antonyms: assemble, gather	32. competent	incompetent: (adj.) not able to do something properly antonyms: able, competent
16. auspicious	inauspicious: (adj.) unfavorable, unlucky, suggesting bad luck for the future antonyms: auspicious, favorable	33. complete	incomplete: (adj.) not finished antonyms: complete, finished
17. band	disband: (v.) to break up, disperse, separate antonyms: band, unite

34. comprehensible	incomprehensible: (adj.) not able to be understood; not clear antonyms: comprehensible, understandable
35. conceivable	inconceivable: (adj.) impossible to believe or imagine; hard to understand antonyms: conceivable, believable
36. connect	reconnect: (v.) to join together again synonym: connect again
37. connect	disconnect: (v.) to separate antonyms: connect, join
38. conquerable	unconquerable: (adj.) not capable of being beaten or conquered; invincible antonyms: conquerable, beatable
39. conspicuous	inconspicuous: (adj.) not easily seen; subtle; not noticeable antonyms: obvious, conspicuous
40. correct	incorrect: (adj.) wrong; having mistakes antonyms: correct, accurate
41. cover	uncover: (v.) expose, make visible antonyms: cover, hide
42. credible	incredible: (adj.) amazing; hard to believe antonyms: credible, believable
43. daunted	undaunted: (adj.) courageous; resolute; fearless; steadfast antonyms: daunted, discouraged
44. decided	undecided: (adj.) not decided or determined; not having one's mind firmly made up. antonyms: decided, resolved
45. dependent	independent: (adj.) not influenced or controlled by others; free; thinking or acting for oneself antonyms: dependent, subordinate
46. deserved	undeserved: (adj.) not deserved or earned; unmerited antonyms: deserved, earned
47. do	undo: (v.) to erase; to make as if something never happened; to destroy antonyms: do, act
48. do	redo: (v.) to do all over again; to change and fix synonyms: to act differently
49. enchanted	disenchanted: (adj.) losing fondness for; unhappy with antonyms: enchanted, delighted
50. expected	unexpected: (adj.) surprising antonyms: expected, unsurprising
51. fair	unfair: (adj.) not right, ethical, or fair antonyms: reasonable

52. faithful	unfaithful: (adj.) not loyal; treacherous antonyms: faithful, loyal
53. finished	unfinished: (adj.) not done or complete antonyms: finished, complete
54. forgettable	unforgettable: (adj.) impossible to forget; memorable antonyms: forgettable, not memorable
55. formal	informal: (adj.) casual; relaxed; conversational antonyms: formal, serious
56. happy	unhappy: (adj.) Sad antonyms: joyful
57. honor	dishonor: (n.) an act that brings shame or loses the respect of others (v.) to perform such an act antonyms: honor, dignity
58. important	unimportant: (adj.) insignificant; not mattering much antonyms: important, significant
59. intelligent	unintelligent: (adj.) not smart antonyms: intelligent, smart
60. kind	unkind: (adj.) not nice; mean, cruel, uncaring antonyms: kind, nice
61. known	unknown: (adj.) not known; not famous, discovered, or identified antonyms: known, recognized
62. legal	illegal: (adj.) against the law antonyms: legal, lawful
63. legitimate	illegitimate: (adj.) contrary to or forbidden by law; not legal antonyms: legitimate, justified
64. like	dislike: (v.) to hate, not like antonyms: like, love
65. likely	unlikely: (adj.) not likely to be or happen antonyms: likely, possible
66. literate	illiterate: (adj.) unable to read or write antonyms: literate, educated
67. live	relive: (v.) to think about a past event; to experience again, as an emotion; to live one's life over again synonyms: to exist again
68. logical	illogical: (adj.) not making sense antonyms: logical, reasonable
69. loved	unloved: (adj.) not loved antonyms: loved, liked
70. lucky	unlucky: (adj.) lacking good fortune; marked by misfortune antonyms: lucky, fortunate
71. make	remake: (v.) to make again synonyms: to recreate

72. mature	immature: (adj.) acting younger than ones age; not fully developed antonyms: mature, developed
73. measurable	immeasurable: (adj.) beyond calculation or measure; indefinitely extensive antonyms: measurable, assessable
74. merciful	unmerciful: (adj.) having or showing no mercy or compassion; not forgiving; cruel antonyms: merciful, compassionate
75. moral	immoral: (adj.) bad, wrong, unethical antonyms: moral, ethical
76. mortal	immortal: (adj.) able to live forever; not subject to death antonyms: mortal, able to die
77. movable	immoveable: (adj.) impossible to move or change; stubborn, adamant antonyms: movable, mobile
78. name	rename: (v.) to change the name of synonyms: to call by a different name
79. natural	unnatural: (adj.) contrary to the laws of science or nature; not normal or human antonyms: natural, common
80. necessary	unnecessary:(adj.) not needed antonyms: necessary, essential
81. new	renew: (v.) to fix or restore; to give no synonyms: to make new or modern again
82. obedient	disobedient: (adj.) not following the rules antonyms: obedient, faithful
83. order	disorder: (n.) confusion; anarchy and chaos antonyms: order, organization
84. organized	disorganized: (adj.) sloppy; not in order antonyms: organized, put in order
85. orthodox	unorthodox: (adj.) contrary to what is usual, traditional, or accepted antonyms: orthodox, traditional
86. own	disown: (v.) to refuse to acknowledge as one's own or as connected with oneself; to forsake antonyms: own, keep
87. partial	impartial: (adj.) fair, just, reasonable antonyms: partial
88. patient	impatient: (adj.) anxious; restless in desire or expectation; eagerly desirous antonyms: patient, even-tempered
89. penetrable	impenetrable: (adj.) impossible to pass through antonyms: penetrable, permeable
90. perceptible	imperceptible: (Adj.) Impossible to see or sense; hard to understand antonyms: perceptible, noticeable

91. perfect	imperfect: (adj.) of, pertaining to, or characterized by faults or weaknesses; making mistakes antonyms: perfect, excellent
92. place	replace: (vb.) put something back where it belongs, or put something back that was missing. synonym: put back
93. planned	unplanned: (adj.) not planned; done without preparation antonyms: planned, prepared
94. play	replay: (v.) to play again (n.) an act or instance of repeating something or playing it again synonyms: to show again
95. pleasant	unpleasant: (adj.) not giving pleasure; offensive; not enjoyable or agreeable antonyms: pleasant, likable
96. pleased	displeased: (adj.) unhappy, upset antonyms: likable, happy
97. polite	impolite: (adj.) rude; lacking in manners antonyms: polite, respectful
98. possible	impossible: (adj.) not able to be done antonyms: probable
99. potent	impotent: (adj.) weak antonyms: potent, powerful
100. practical	impractical: (adj.) unrealistic; not reasonable antonyms: practical, sensible
101. predictable	unpredictable: (adj.) not able to be foreseen or foretold; able to change at any time antonyms: predictable, expected
102. prepared	unprepared: (adj.) not ready antonyms: prepared, planned
103. probable	improbable: (adj.) not likely to occur antonyms: probable, likely
104. proper	improper: (adj.) not acceptable in terms of behavior or manners; rude; not right antonyms: proper, appropriate
105. prove	disprove: (adj.) to prove to be false; to show that something is not true antonyms: prove, show to be true
106. provoked	unprovoked: (adj.) without cause or motivation; without having been brought about by an action antonyms: provoked, aroused
107. qualify	disqualify: (v.) to declare unfit to participate; to make ineligible for a right or privilege antonyms: qualify, enable
108. real	unreal: (adj.) not real; hard to believe antonyms: real, actual

109. regard	disregard: (v.) to ignore or pay no attention to somebody or something antonyms: regard, acknowledge
110. regular	irregular: (adj.) not normal or usual; not proper, accepted, or right antonyms: regular, normal
111. relevant	(irrelevant: adj.) having nothing to do with the subject; unimportant antonyms: relevant, germane
112. reparable	irreparable: (adj.) incapable of being fixed or repaired antonyms: reparable, fixable
113. replaceable	irreplaceable: (adj.) not able to be replaced antonyms: replaceable, renewable
114. resistible	irresistible: (adj.) too tempting or attractive to be ignored or resisted; not able to be withstood antonyms: resistible, avoidable
115. respect	disrespect: (n.) rudeness; lack of respect (v.) to show or possess such characteristics antonyms: respect, esteem
116. responsible	irresponsible: (adj.) careless or unable to meet responsibilities antonyms: responsible, obligated
117. reverent	irreverent: (adj.) not showing respect antonyms: reverent, respectful
118. reversible	irreversible: (adj.) impossible to reverse or change antonyms: reversible, changeable
119. revocable	irrevocable: (v.) not able to be undone or changed; not able to be taken back antonyms: revocable, repealable
120. safe	unsafe: (adj.) dangerous antonyms: safe, protected
121. sane	insane: (adj.) extremely crazy; having a mental disorder antonyms: sane, sensible
122. satisfied	dissatisfied: (adj.) not pleased or satisfied antonyms: satisfied, contented
123. savory	unsavory: (adj.) disgusting; not pleasing to the senses; tasteless antonyms: savory, delicious
124. seen	unseen: (adj.) not seen antonyms: seen, noticed
125. selfish	unselfish: (adj.) generous; thinking and caring about others antonyms: selfish, uncaring
126. send	resend: (v.) to send again synonyms: to deliver again

127. sensitive	insensitive: not caring; slow to feel or notice; unfeeling antonyms: sensitive, responding
128. stable	unstable: (adj.) not firm or steadfast; likely to change at any time; liable to fall or sway; marked by erratic, unpredictable, and changeable behavior antonyms: stable, steady
129. start	restart: (v.) to begin or start something all over again synonyms: to go back to the beginning
130. state	restate: (v.) to repeat, say again; to express the same idea in different words to clarify and stress key points synonyms: to say again (most likely with a different tone)
131. sufficient	insufficient: (adj.) not enough antonyms: sufficient, enough
132. sure	unsure: (adj.) not certain antonyms: sure, certain
133. surmountable	insurmountable: (adj.) not capable of being overcome antonyms: surmountable, conquerable
134. suspecting	unsuspecting: (adj.) naive; not aware; having no suspicions antonyms: aware, suspecting
135. tamed	untamed: (adj.) wild antonyms: tamed, not wild
136. tasteful	distasteful: (adj.) unpleasant; disagreeable; not delicious antonyms: tasteful, pleasant
137. tenable	untenable: (adj.) unable to be held or defended antonyms: tenable, defensible
138. timely	untimely: (adj.) uncommonly early or before the expected time; not happening at a proper or suitable time antonyms: timely, punctual
139. true	untrue: (adj.) false antonyms: true, actual
140. trust	distrust: (n.) lack of confidence or faith in; suspicion; disbelief (v.) to show or display such things antonyms: trust, have confidence in
141. type	retype: (v.) to type again synonyms: to rewrite
142. united	disunited: (adj.) not joined together; separated antonyms: united, joined

143. view	review: (v.) to look at again (n.) a critical article or report on a book, play, recital, or the like; critique; evaluation synonyms: to see or look at again
144. visible	invisible: (adj.) unable to be seen with the naked eye antonyms: visible, obvious
145. visit	revisit: (v.) to visit again; to return to; to examine something again, especially after you have new information synonyms: to come back to
146. warranted	unwarranted: (adj.) unjustified; unauthorized antonyms: warranted, justified
147. wavering	unwavering: (adj.) firm and determined; steadfast antonyms: wavering, unsteady
148. willing	unwilling: (adj.) reluctant to do something; not eager; stubborn antonyms: willing, ready
149. wind	rewind: (v.) to make go backwards; to make go in reverse synonyms: to turn back
150. write	rewrite: (v.) to write again synonyms: to put words down on paper again